Openness

We believe that the products we grow embody the commitment and dedication of our employees, and we strive to make our farm easy to visit by opening it to the surrounding community.

Natural education

Through farm work, we offer unequalled opportunities for learning that encompasses food, play, knowledge, life, and fellowship.

Regional revitalization / community service

We seek to give back to our community through meaningful service.

Communication

We communicate actively through social media and hands-on events.

MESSAGE

Hokkaido Niki, where Tomapu Farm is located, is a region suitable for growing agricultural products, because of its warm and humid climate throughout the four seasons. In recent years, the number of wineries and vineyards has increased around this area, and has been designated as a Special Wine Growing Zone.

We will do our best to contribute to the development of new value in this historical town, Niki, where is the full of possibilities. Hoping one day the charm of the town will be known throughout the world.
